RECENT FLOODS.

The Texas flood will almost measure up to the frightful catastrophe of May 31, 1889, when Johnstown and a number of adjacent towns in Pennsylvania were swept away by a flood released by the bursting of the South Fork Fishing Club's dam.

The dam broke at 3 p. m. and in three quarters of an nour the three miles of water behind it, about 480,000-000 cubic feet in all, had drained out and was precipitated upon Johnstown A swath of 1,000 feet was cut through the iron works and the principal business and residence portion of the town by the water, which rose to a height of 30 or 40 feet. In three quarters of an hour between 5,000 and 6,000 persons had perished and about $40,000,000 damagehad been done. This has not been the first visitation of the kind Galveston bas experienced, although it is the worst. Beginning or September 15, 1875, the city was half submerged and cut off from the mainland from W dnesday until late Sunday night. Scores of lives were lost and the damage aggregated a quarter of a million dollars. Following is a list of a few of the notable floods and cyclone disasters of the past decade: June 20, 1892-Breaking drams floor ed Titusville and Oil City, Pa., Oil and gasoline tanks burst and the flood became a seething mass of flames, in which 300 persons lost their lives.

March 27, 1890 - Tornado swept Louisville, Ky., 93 killed; 500 injured. May 15 1896-Tornado struck Gray son and Denton counties, Texas; 100 killed.

May 27, 1896-Tornade in St. Louis and East St. Louis; 500 killed a d 1,500 wounded. Property loss $200,000,000. Part of the two cities razed to the ground

September 29, 1896-A tornado and consuming nations. Good tidal wave destroyed part of Cedar ted gives strength. If you Keys Fia., and wrecked many vessels. Many lives lost. June 12, 1899-Tornado in Southern

Wisconsin and Minnesota partially destroyed the cities of Hastings, New Richmond and Hudson; 500 killed, 1, ATROCITIES BY THE ALLIES. A dispatch from Pekin, September 3, via Shanghai, September 14, says: Locting in Pekin continues, both authorized and unauthorized.

Few houses are guarded except those occupied by foreigners, the palaces and those in the Sacred City. Almost every house is destitute of furniture. Gen. Chaffee says he could not have believed that any city would ever be given over so completely to looters, and he earnestly desires the co-operatiod of any nation to prevent this.

On the other hand the missionaries complain because the Sacred City has not been looted. They urge that the royal family and other highly-placed Chinese personages, who were behind all the trouble, should be made to suffer more than those who blindly followed them.

General Fukushima, the Japanese Manufacturer's agent for School Desks and commander, informed General Chaffee that brutal outrages were being committed in Tung-Chow. He told the American commander he had positive information that many women had thrown themselves into wells or com-mitted suicide in other ways, after having been outraged, and that there were several authentic cases of coolies who had been killed under peculiarly atrecious conditions. He requested General Chaffee to investigate and then to co-operate with him to check these barbarities as far as possible. General Chaffee ordered Major Muir to proceed immediately to Tung-Chow and report.
At a council of generals yesterday the Russian General Linevitch said he had received information that two forces of Boxers, one numbering 10,000 and the other 4 000, were marching from the south to cut the communications of the allies between Pekin and Tientsin. It was finally decided that the line was sufficiently guarded, as the illies would certainly receive definite adings of the approach of the Boxers in time to mobilize at any given point. The council is-sued orders for increased vigilance on the part of the outposts. An expedition under Gen. Dorward against the Boxers threatening the Tientsin region reached Tu Liu, on the Grand canel, without opposition, and the city was occupied without a shot being fired. General Dorward ordered the town burne i after it had been thoroughly looted. The villagers on the way made peace offerings, and, in most cases, were undisturbed.
